Dreamlets

Some future day
When skies are gray,
And dreaming fills your mind,
You're apt to see
In memory
The school you left behind.

The days of drills,
The nearby hills,
Before your gaze shall rise;
Dear pals of old,
And teachers bold,
Again shall pass your eyes.

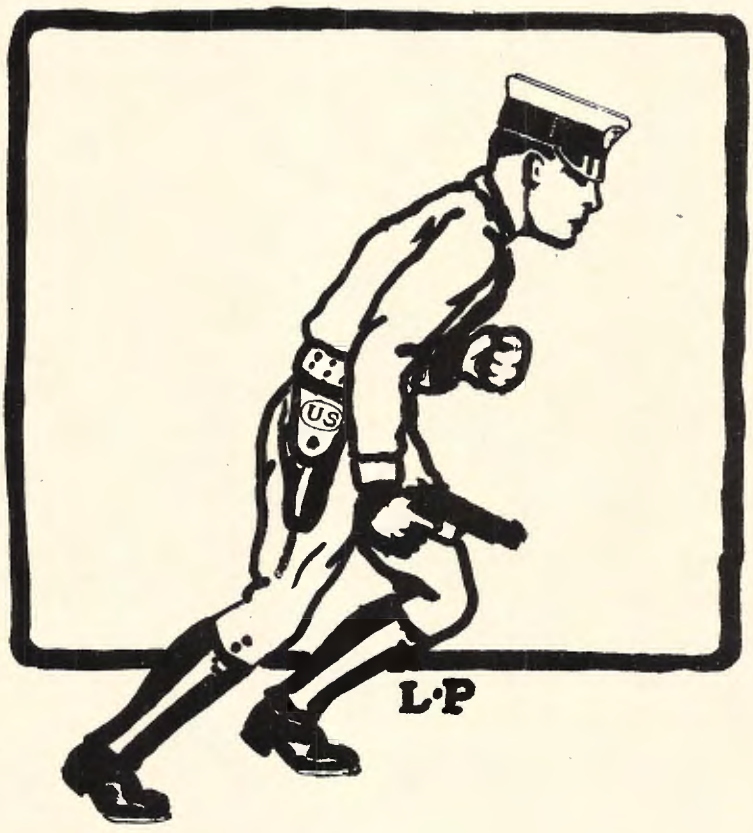

And only then
Will you begin
To know how much you love
The bowl of clay,
The barracks gray,
The flag that waves above.

'Twas here you learned,
'Twas here you earned
The things you'll get from life;
Here were you taught,
And here you fought
Your first world-centered strife.

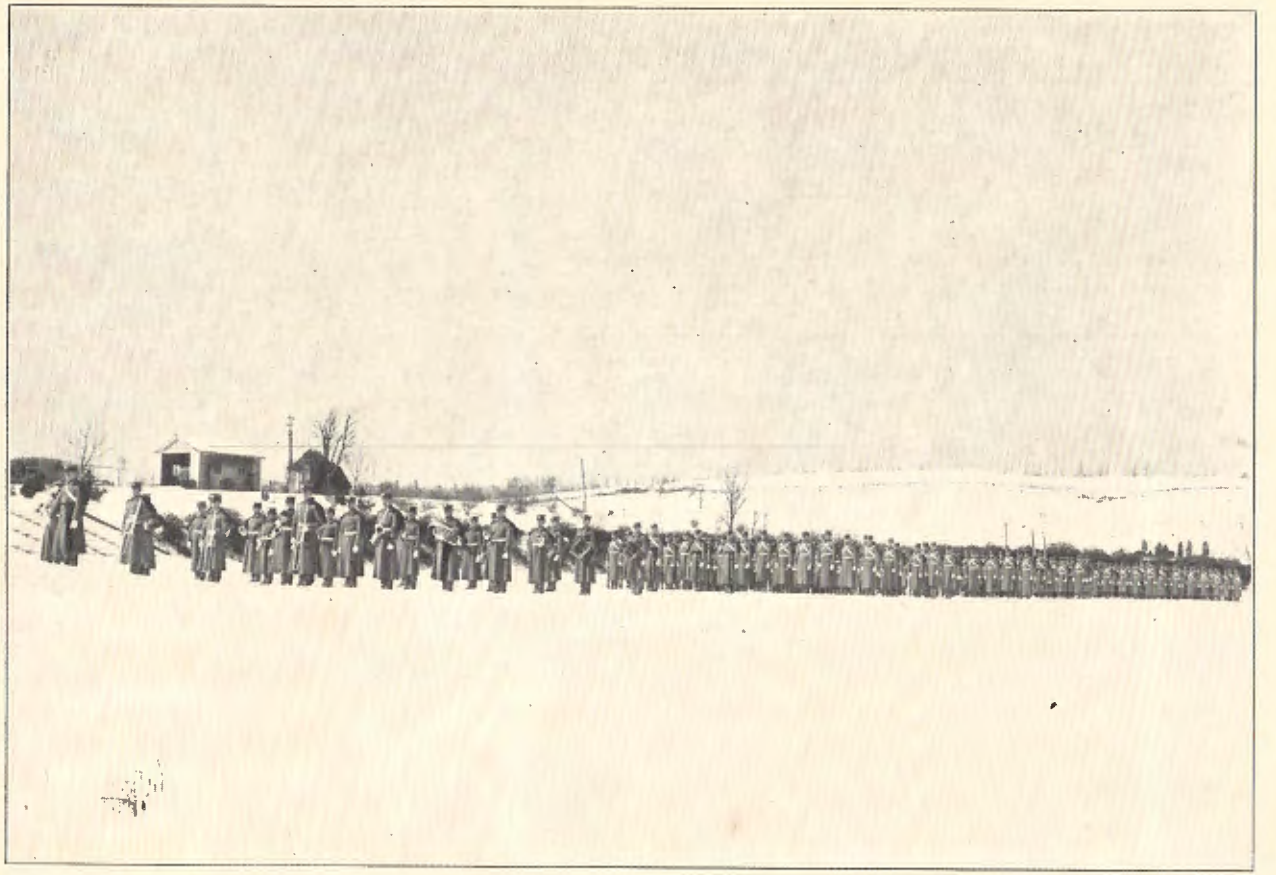

You'll miss the days,
You'll miss the ways,
Of life at A. M. A.
You'll feel again
As sad as then—
The day you went away.

What true cadet
Will soon forget
The joy that has been his?
So try to show
Before you go
How dear the old school is!

Under the able supervision of Captain J. M. B. McLaughlin, the A. M. A. branch of the Young Men's Christian Association experienced a very successful year. Meetings were held every Sunday night in the Academic Building. These were presided over by the cadet officers of the Association, and the cadets who attended. Speakers were secured from neighboring towns on several occasions in order to make the meetings more interesting. The interest taken in the association was demonstrated by the large crowds of cadets who attended regularly.

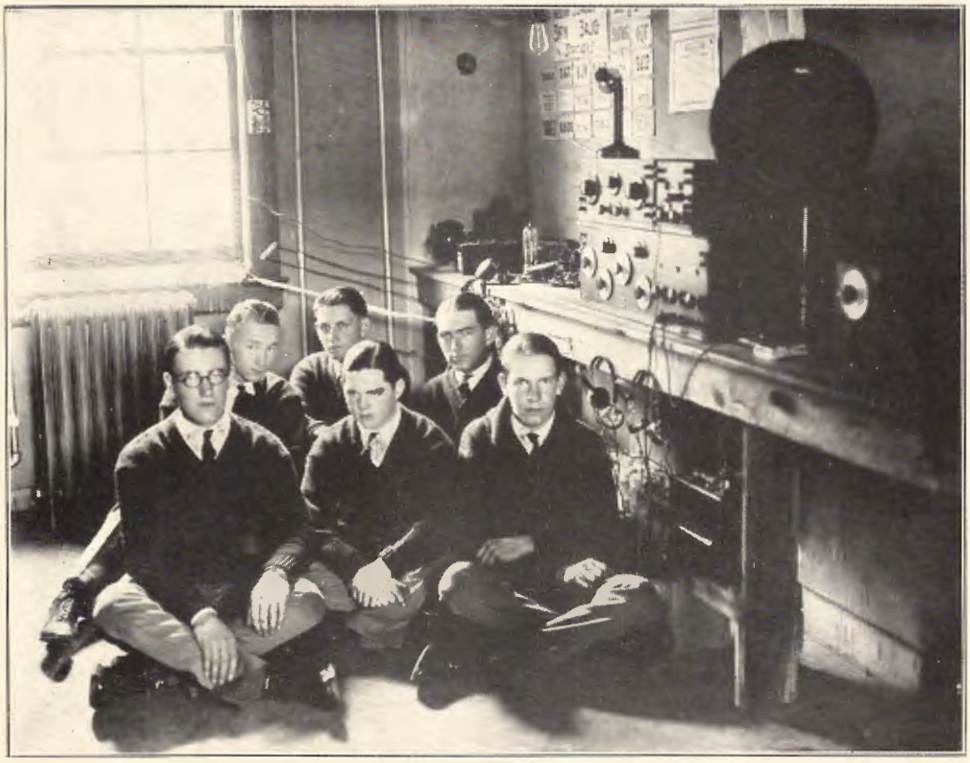

Officers for the year 1923-24 were: B. B. Booker, President; R. C. Alexander, Vice-President; M. M. Sproul, Secretary. The Cabinet: Bryant, Fix, Patten, Newman, Gresham, T.

Bible Class

When Captain Frank Gilliam, '15, left us to become A. M. A.'s missionary in foreign fields, it was his wish that the Sunday School Class, of which he was teacher, be carried on in remembrance of him. There was no one so well fitted to take over this work as Major H. A. Jacob, our assistant commandant, who has unselfishly devoted his time after the regular church service every Sunday to the meetings of the class. These meetings were made very interesting by vocal and instrumental selections, and declamations rendered by members of the class. An excellent tribute to the work of Major Jacob was the large attendance every Sunday.

Class officers were: R. G. Alexander, President; J. B. McArthur, Vice-President; B. B. Booker, Secretary.

Ciceronian Literary Society

The session of 1923-'24 marked a new era in literary efforts among the cadets. Under the able supervision of Major Roller, who acted as official critic, more interest was shown in the society than ever before. The subjects for debate were well picked, and the cadets taking part in them handled their sides in an excellent manner. Many and varied also were the readings delivered.

Officers elected for the society this year were: T. D. McNeal, President; M. B. Williamson, Vice-President; D. R. Fick, Secretary; L. J. Thompson, Sergeant-at-arms.

Junior Literary Society

This department of the Literary Society was for all cadets fifteen years of age and under. Captains Parkins and Stackhouse were the faculty advisers. The object of this society was to bring out subjects of interest to younger boys and to familiarize them with the proceeding of a debate. A great amount of interest was shown by those belonging to the society, and the results obtained were gratifying.

The officers were: President, J. H. Lewis; Vice-President, J. H. McCreery; Secretary, F. C. Winslow; Sergeant-at-arms, B. E. Graves.

Joys—Like the Sunset—Fade and Die

Like longings for a star of skyland,
We have longed for finals' glee;
As castaways upon some island
Watch a ship far out at sea;
Stars from skyland never come
Finals are our own at last,
Now the castaway is home;
Anxious waiting all is past.

Just as buddies of a lifetime
Separate before Death's door,
So we part now in the springtime—
Some returning nevermore;
As the sun is light of day,
Friends are all the light of life;
Pals you've made at A. M. A.
Will be true in joy or strife.

So the happiness of school-days,
And the joys of careless hearts
Are life's sweetest little by-plays—
That must end when we depart:
Life is short—and shorter still
Are the days left us toge'er;
Make them sweet and full of thrill—
Then remember them fore'er.

—S. B. Shepherd, Jr.

That Old A. M. A. Spirit

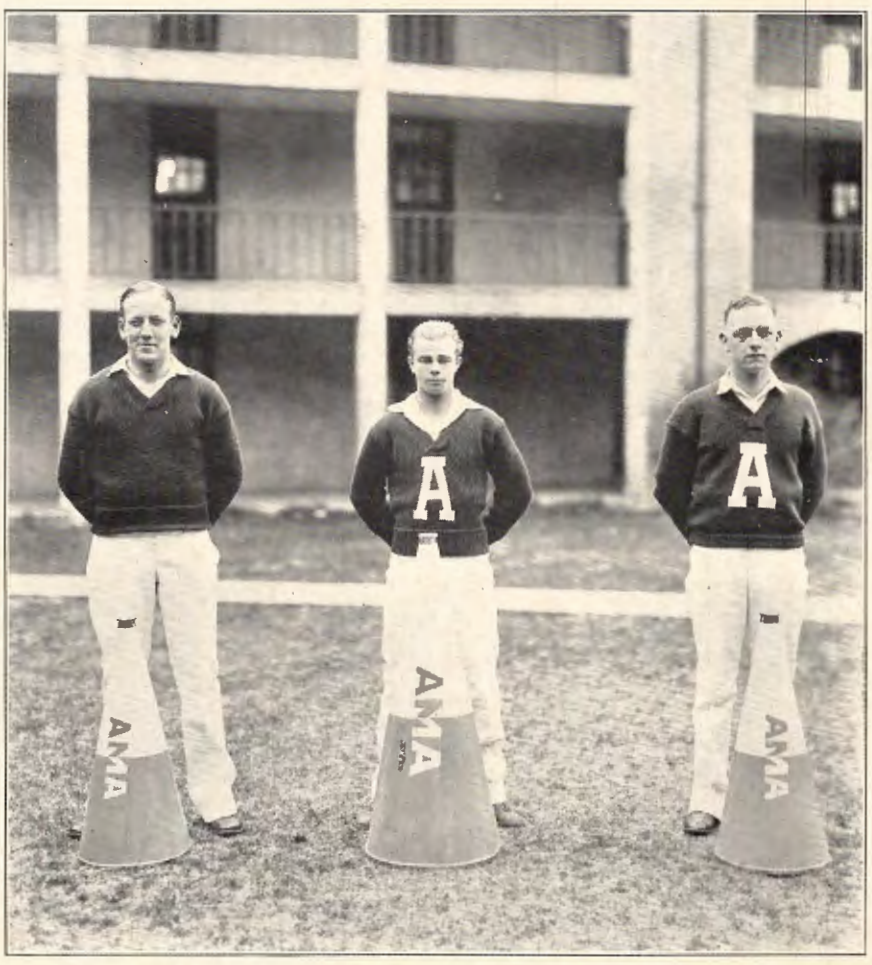

How often we have heard those words, "that old A. M. A. spirit." It has become a by-word, handed down for many years, from one Corps to another. We have heard it on the Clay Bowl and we have heard it in Barracks. It is probably used, in our everyday life, more than any other phrase. Indeed, so common a phrase, that the majority of us give it little, if any, thought.

Yet, behind those words lies a spirit, dear to the heart of every Augusta man. That spirit was born fifty-eight years ago, in a small wooden building which stood in the grove only a few yards from the Old Stone Church.

A good many changes have taken place in those years. Augusta has grown, from that small wooden building in the grove, into one of the most splendidly equipped academies in the South. Thousands of boys have enjoyed the privilege of calling her their Alma Mater.

To her Alumni who are yet in college, the spirit that they knew at Augusta gives them a greater sense of college spirit. To those who are facing the problems of the business world, it gives a new incentive and vigor. It stands for good sportsmanship, for a fighting spirit that does not acknowledge defeat. It stands for fairness and square dealing. In fact, it will stand for the same principles in after life that it now represents on the Clay Bowl or in the Barracks.

To better this spirit is an impossibility. We only ask that the cadets in the years to come, may continue to hold that A. M. A. spirit above all else.

Football

KAVANAUGH, E. J.

CAPTAIN, HALF-BACK

"Eddie" proved to be the sensation of the 1923 football team by those who saw him in action. His wonderful broken field running was no less remarkable than his deadly tackling on the defensive. When "Eddie" received on the kick-off it appeared as if he was trying to set a record for the 100-yard dash, a fact to which Fishburne will bear witness. "Eddie" is a good example of that old "never-say-die" Augusta spirit which causes our teams to fight to the last, no matter what the odds might be. He proved to be a worthy leader and one whom his team-mates respected and admired.

WILLIAMSON, M. B.

FULL-BACK, ASSISTANT CAPTAIN

"Tony" proved to be an ideal running-mate for "Eddie." A plunging full-back who seldom failed to open a hole on the offensive and who, in backing up the line, met plays with a fierceness which drove opponents towards their own goal. "Tony" proved to be one of the most valuable men of the backfield.

FICK

TACKLE

"Dorsey" was the most versatile member of the varsity squad. During the season he alternated at half-back, center, and tackle. In any position he was a competent player. He was quicker than the average lineman and could shift faster. He has the enviable record of not muffling a single forward pass out of the many that came his way during the season. "Fickey" will not return to Augusta next fall, and his absence will leave a vacancy on the team that can be filled only by the best.

McARTHUR, J. B.

QUARTER-BACK

The task of piloting the "Keydets" through the season fell to "Scotty," and his work in running the team was beyond criticism. He also did all the punting and could carry the ball for substantial gains whenever he took it. His generalship stood the Blue and White in good stead more than once during the season. "Scotty" leaves us this year, and it will be hard indeed to find another of his calibre.

SMITH, K.

"Jumbo" is the type of line-man that all coaches like to work with. His fight, his indomitable spirit, his work on the offense, and his crashing tackles were were elements that characterized a mighty constituent of the Augusta eleven. We have a comfortable feeling of inner satisfaction when we state that "Smitty" is captain-elect of the '24 team and is sure to return. Here's to the success of our next year's team and captain.

COLVIN

END

To look at "Sam" you wouldn't think he was a sterling warrior of the flank position—he appears better adapted for the entertainment of the fairer sex. But, believe us, he isn't a bench-warmer at either sport! According to American phraseology, he is a star at the former and a sheik at the latter! Colvin was just about the spunkiest player on the team; time and time again his heart-breaking tackles brought a fearful hush over the crowd of anxious spectators. "Sam" is planning to return to us for at least one more season, and glad of the fact is the one thing we "sho" are!

MOSS

TACKLE

"Discuss" is a man of iron. Strong and immovable as Gibraltar itself. This season marked his début into the pigskin world, but we feel that he will play havoc among his opponents in many a future contest before he retires from the game. "Joe's" playing was of the steadiest variety and surprising for a man of so little experience. He was a match for the huskiest opponent. Although he is as yet undecided upon the matter of his return, here's our best wishes and our hopes for Joe.

PANNEL

GUARD

"Rooster" is moulded on the square inch plan, and each unit contains a square inch of fight. There was not a man on the squad that worked harder than "Chicken" or who is more deserving of the coveted monogram that was his reward. "Little men do big things," so says the saying. Rooster is a vivid example of this statement. Not only does he do big things, but we've also seen him undo some big Things! "Chicken" hopes to be present at the first practice of '24, and he will, if the fates do not decree otherwise.

McCUE

GUARD

Disabled and handicapped during the initial weeks of the season by an infected finger, "Bill" overcame all obstacles and finished the season in fine form. He played the game under the same axiom that covers all other phases of his life—"Say little and do much." He was equally efficient on both the defense and the offense. His work on the gridiron won for him the admiration and the confidence of his "colleagues." Opposing quarter-backs soon learned by experience that it was a fruitless play which aimed in his direction. Bill's leaving this year, and only when he is gone will we fully realize just how much he was to the team—and to us.

McNEAL

GUARD

When "Tilley" laid down the old pipe, arose, yawned, stretched himself, and got into action, he proved to be one of the whirlingest whirlwinds the old clay bowl has ever upheld. A fearless player and a vicious tackler, he was a veritable emergency brake in the offensive machine of his opponents. All he had he gave to the game and his team, and what he had wasn't any small amount! In every sense of the word Tilley was an adequate line-man. Coaches and corps alike regret that he will not return next year.

HOGSHIRE

HALF-BACK

"Piggy" was the fastest element of a fast team. His work in the backfield was always notable and conspicuous. Once free, few backs in the state were more dangerous than "Tom." On the defense he was a sure tackler and a marvel at intercepting passes. To express all of Hogshire's merits would require many pages, but we think his work is definitely classified with the use of the colloquolism "good." Piggy is not returning, he says, but his friends are fervently hoping for the contrary.

SPROUL

Colvin's running mate was in every respect equal to the appellation. Mason's ability to handle passes closely bordered on the phenomenal. The 1923 eleven was noted for its aërial attack and the ends were largely responsible for this reputation. In every phase of the game Mason was effective and capable. His physique is that of a good end, and his work on the field does not in the least belie his appearances. Sproul is returning to us next fall, thereby assuring us of a pair of flankers well out of the ordinary class.

BAILEY

FULL-BACK

"Andy" is the kind of back that tempts even the huskiest player to deliberate a moment before obstructing his path. His powerful driving ability was invariably good for a gain when a yard or two were absolutely esssential for a first down or a touchdown. He was a willing worker and improved perceptibly as the season progressed. "Andy" hopes to be with us again next fall.

FIX

CENTER

"Madame" put all he had in the game, and was, in due time, amply rewarded with the coveted "A." Everyone likes to see a man start the season without much experience and come through strong at the end; Fix had the determination and grit to do thusly. "Madame" was capable of filling any of the line positions. Such a man is necessary to any team. Fix hopes to return, and we are sure that his fight and his steadiness will be valuable factors of the '24 eleven.

VARSITY FOOTBALL SQUAD

HOWARD

"Stump's" steadiness, aggressiveness, and fight caused his team-mates to depend on him to such an extent that, when he was absent from the game, his place could not be adequately filled. As an emphasis to this assertion, review the Fishburne and the W. and L. contests. Without Howard, the results of those important frays would have been a different tale. "Stump" was a member of the 1922 "All-State" team, and we are certain that, if he had not been removed from the game on account of injuries, he would have easily filled a berth on the 1923 team. In brief, "Stump" was not excelled by any member of this year's varsity. His last season at A. M. A. has passed—and those are the saddest words we've had to say for a long, long time.

We regret very much our inability to secure a picture of Howard.

Football Resume

Before summarizing our 1923 fotball season, we wish to extend our sincerest thanks to our able coaches who were so largely responsible for the satisfactory manner in which our team came through the season. We know that thanks and praise do not express all that these men did to make our team one of the pluckiest and hardest-fighting elevens that ever went on a prep-school gridiron; but only those who witnessed the harmonious work of our team may fully comprehend the time and labor extended by these men.

Our head coach, Captain Riley Harrison, the celebrated Captain and all South Atlantic guard of V. M. I.'s Flying Squadron of '22, proved to be even more capable as a coach. His inexhaustible knowledge of the finer points of the game gave him the power to instill them into the minds of the comparatively green team, causing comment, as well as amazement, from those who attended the games.

Captain J. W. Caldwell proved to be one of the best back-field coaches that A. M. A. has ever had. It is true that he had several letter men to work with, but even that did not lessen his ability as a back-field coach. He produced a quintet of "backs" that not only won fame for Augusta but for themselves also.

Captains McWhorter and McLaughlin gave valuable assistance to the head coaches and produced a junior varsity that aided the "Big Team" in getting into shape for their many contests. The Scrubs won several games and proved themselves to contain valuable material for ensuing years.

The first game of the season was played on the Augusta grid with Staunton High School. It was a very evenly matched contest, as neither team had been long at practice. Although we outweighed S. H. S., four of our most valuable men were out of the game, which fact lessened our strength to a great extent.

Our next game was on October 6th, with Washington and Lee Freshmen. This game proved the real strength of our line, and was very exciting and interesting throughout—neither team being able to score, although both teams were within striking distance on several occasions. During this game two very lamentable accidents occurred. Our center, "Stump" Howard, broke his ankle, and one of our fast backs, "Bake" Williamson, suffered a broken finger. Both men were forced to retire and were kept out of a number of ensuing games on account of these injuries.

On the 13th of October we again met our opponents on our own field; this time they were the University of Virginia Freshmen. The 13th proved to be an unlucky day for the cadets, as Virginia won with the big end of a 21-6 score. This game was far from a walk-over, however, and was lots closer than the score indicated. The first half ended 7-6. We greatly felt the loss of the two victims, Williamson and Howard.

On October 20th the entire corps accompanied the team to Charlottesville, where we met Woodberry Forest. This proved to be a fast game from the start till the final whistle. Although the cadets were the aggressors during the entire game, Woodberry, in the last few minutes of play, ran back a punt sixty yards for a touchdown and kicked the extra point, making the score of 7-0 in their favor. In the game the cadets completed more than twenty forward passes, but lacked the drive at the proper time.

October 27th brought us another defeat of 7-0 when we played V. M. I. Freshmen on the Augusta Bowl. This was a stellar game, and the manner in which the Augusta ends succeeded in blocking V. M. I.'s aerial attack was marvelous. Although this hindered the Red White and Yellow from running up a large score, they succeeded in crossing the goal line in the second quarter.

The game with Washington and Lee's Second Team was a victory for the cadets. Although A. M. A. was greatly outweighed, they succeessfully ran up a score of 22-0 against the opposing team, which was composed of many former A. M. A. stars.

November tenth's game was a disastrous one for the Blue and White. Even though the score of this game with U. Va.'s Second Best seems like it was a walk-away for the "Cavaliers," those on the sidelines received excitement many times when the boys of the Blue and White approached their opponent's goal with a drive that seemed sure to score, but were held by the second stringers. After a fast game the Virginia boys carried off the large end of a score of 19-0. We were clearly out of our class—theirs was the experience of older men.

As is invariably the case when old rivals meet, the Fishburne-Augusta game was one that will long be remembered by those who played the game and by those who witnessed it. Augusta scored in the first and second quarters and Fishburne in the third. It was a close and hard-fought contest from start to finish, full of brilliant plays on both sides and a victorious one for the Blue and White. The score, which will never be forgotten by us, was 13-6. The entire team brought glory to themselves and to their Alma Mater.

Augusta met Massanutten Military Academy on November 24th at Woodstock, Va. This was the second game that the Augusta warriors played this week, and after a hard-fought game, lost to them, 21-7. The Massanutten boys exhibited much skill in trick plays which completely baffled Augusta until it was too late to compensate.

Terminating the season with a hard-fought game with the Apprentice School at Newport News, the A. M. A. team was unsuccessful against the heavy apprentice team.

In conclusion, we must say that even though A. M. A. lost many games, this season is considered successful, as we won from Fishburne, the game which is considered the biggest and most important, in the minds of the cadets.

The Scrubs

This year's scrub team may be termed as one of the grittiest, hardest-fighting scrub teams that ever donned their shoulder pads and helmets and scrimmaged the varsity with a determination to tear 'em up or make 'em think they made a good try at it.

The names and pictures of these men do not appear here individually and are not singled out for honorable mention, but they deserve most of the honor. A man that goes out every evening, day in and day out, for the entire season, with the knowledge from the beginning, that their chances of making the Big Team are slim, deserves the highest credit.

This scrub team was composed of about fifty men who came out with a drive that could not be beat, but who could not cope with the other men of more experience. They came out every evening and stood the kicks and knocks of the varsity in its practice for the various games. And during these games it was they who warmed the bench and cheered the team on. It was they who listened to the cheers given by the corps for the team; they who patted the team on the back and said, "Good game, old fellow," while, deep down in their hearts, they were longing for the time that they might be one of the men to get in the game and not one that warms the bench. Fellows, it takes real red-blooded men to be on a scrub team, and men who do not shrink from duty. Surely it is this part of the football squad that deserves the greater part of the glory and honor.

Basketball Team

McARTHUR

Captain

GUARD

Those who are intimate with "Scotty" know that it is impossible for a team that he plays on to be entirely unsuccessful. His is a spirit indomitable, the facility to bring a losing team to the front. The type of playing he exhibited was beyond criticism and invariably steady. The moral support and the active playing that "Scotty" gave to the team were factors that figured largely in the success the team attained as the season progressed.

FICK

Assistant Captain

CENTER

A player ever to be depended on was "Dorsey." His shooting was deadly accurate, his guarding was always effective. When other members of the team were experiencing an "off-day," it was "Dorsey" who would come through with the "goal that counted." "Ficky" showed himself a modest player throughout the season; his chief aim being, not to attain individual praise, but to establish and develop team work. We predict a great future for "Dorsey" in college.

MANN

FORWARD

"And the last shall not be least." We feel that our phrases are insufficient to describe the playing of a man who has been judged by critics far superior to ourselves. The entirety of his merits may be summed in one sentence. Mann was selected as a member of the second all-state prep and high school team. Hunt him up and he'll show you the medal they gave him.

TAYLOR

FORWARD

"Shag" has the distinction of tallying more points than any of his team-mates during the season. Improving as the year progressed, he at times displayed streaks of brilliancy that led us to expect great things from him next year. His graceful shots from the center of the floor invariably created a sensation and commanded the admiration of the spectators. "Shag," we think, is a true star.

COLVIN

GUARD

"Sam" received not only the praise and the plaudits of the corps, but also that of impartial experts who had occasion to witness him in action. A strong dribbler, a remarkably accurate shot, a dogged guard—these are the elements that make a perfect player, and "Sam" possessed them all. In the last game with Fishburne he proved himself to be more than a match for the state's best prep school players. "Sam" was the "find" of the season.

HEISTAND

FORWARD

"Dick" tried and tried hard; his efforts were not unsuccessful. No man on the team worked harder for a letter than Heistand. Despite the fact that he was handicapped by his eyes, he exhibited a brand of playing that was highly commendable. He was especially adept at close shots. Our hats are off to "Dick."

SPROUL

GUARD

"Mason" always evinced, whether on the sidelines or in the game, the spirit of optimism that is so helpful to all teams and their coaches. He was an efficient guard and a willing worker. There were times during the season when his services were indispensible. "Mason" more than deserved the monogram he received.

Resume of Basketball Season

When Captain McWhorter issued his call for candidates, about forty men responded, and from that number our coach had no little difficulty in selecting a team that was to uphold the Augusta traditions.

Out of these forty volunteers only one was a letter man of last year's team. McArthur, captain, succeeded in piloting the team through a very successful season with the help of Fick, Taylor, Colvin, Sproul, Williamson, M., Mann, F., and Heistand, of last year's scrubs. Ford also was a valuable substitute and played like a veteran when put in the game.

After two weeks of intensive practice, the season opened with Martinsburg High School at home on January 12th. This proved to be an interesting game. Although the final score of 30-22 was in our favor, Martinsburg displayed a quintet of no mean ability.

The next game was with Bridgewater College, in which the cadets lost by a score of 41-19. The Augusta five put up one of their best games against the older and more experienced collegians, but had to be content with the small end of the score.

Again Augusta lost to her opponents, W. and L. Freshmen, on her own floor on January 19th. Although Augusta put up an excellent game, they were outclassed by the fast Freshmen quint.

January 22nd found A. M. A. in a hot contest with S. C. I. It was a fast game from start to finish, as the score of 19-17, in Augusta's favor, indicates.

On January 25th Augusta journeyed to Lynchburg to meet her old rivals, Episcopal High School. The small end of a 33-17 score does not indicate that Augusta did not play a wonderful game. Although Episcopal had Augusta outclassed, the game was fast and hotly contested at all times.

The following night, January 26th, we played Virginia Episcopal School on their own floor. They, too, were victorious over our team, the final score being 29-19.

Augusta defeated the V. S. D. B. team on February 1st on the A. M. A. floor by a score of 22-18. The cadets showed up in fine form and put up one of their best games. The passing on both sides was exceptionally good, and the goal-shooting was by no means bad.

Next came the game with our rivals, Woodberry Forest, which was played on their court, on February 2nd. Both teams put forth a wonderful game, but Woodberry gained a lead in the second quarter that enabled them to carry away the "laurels" with a score of 32-13.

Our second game with S. C. I. was played at Dayton on February 11th, and this, too, proved to be a second victory over the collegians. The passing of both teams was superb, but the cadets succeeded in overpowering their opponents in goal-shooting, making a final score of 36-28.

We next met University of Virginia Freshmen at home, and both teams played stellar ball, but the Cavaliers were victorious by a score of 26-22.

After a hard-fought battle for victory, F. M. S. carried off the large end of a 33-15 score on February 16th at Fort Defiance. They started out at a pace that pressed the Augusta boys hard from the start, and although the whole team did remarkable passing, we were unable to cope with their brilliant center, Spotts, who made goals from all parts of the floor.

Displaying an accurate and excellent brand of basketball, the A. M. A. basketeers defeated S. V. A. at home, February 18th to the tune of 36-14. The whole Augusta team was in fine shape and very few shots were missed. S. V. A. also displayed good fight and speed, but were unable to get within range of the basket for many shots.

Our next game was with R.-M. A. at home. Many times during the fast contest Augusta was in the lead, but our opponents came back strong in the second half and succeeded in making a final score of 26-20 in their favor.

For the second time this season, we met Bridgewater College on February 21st at home. It was an interesting and exciting game. At the end of the first half the outlook for Augusta was promising, but Bridgewater came back in the second with a drive that made them final victors by 44-14.

February 23rd found us facing the V. M. I. Rats. During the whole contest it was a close battle, and not until the latter part of the game was anyone able to see which team had the advantage. But when the final whistle blew, A. M. A. was on the long end of a 36-28 score.

This year is the first time that we have ever played Blue Ridge college. We met them at home on February 25th and, after a fast and interesting game, were victorious by a score of 32-21.

Staunton Athletic Association was the next on our schedule, February 26th. After a hard-fought contest, we were the victors by a score of 37-20. It was one of the best games played on the Augusta floor this season, and it could be clearly seen that both teams were in excellent form.

Our next contest was at Staunton with the "Y." The cadets were handicapped by the loss of Taylor, one of their "main-stays," who was out of the game. We put up an exceptionally hard fight, but the final whistle found us on the losing end of a 27-20 score.

After a hard and fast game, as is always the case when old rivals meet, Augusta went down to defeat to Fishburne at Waynesboro. This was the second defeat that the local five suffered at the hands of their rivals. A. M. A. felt keenly the loss of her two regular forwards, Taylor and Mann, F., who were out on account of sickness. Again Spotts of Fishburne showed his skill at caging the ball from all parts of the floor, and to this, and the loss of Taylor and Mann, may be attributed the loss of the game by a close margin of 33-28.

The final game of the season, which was also the second game with the Staunton "Y," was played on our own floor and was a good game. Again the loss of Taylor and Mann handicapped the cadets. The "Y" team had on in several former A. M. A. stars, and they displayed the same old spirit that they had attained while at Augusta. Carrying away the big end of a 26-22 score, the "Y," for the second time, triumphed over Augusta.

At the tournament in Lexington, Va., March 6th, 7th, and 8th, Augusta won from Blackstone Military Academy by default. In the semi-finals the cadet five lost to Fork Union after a hard and close game by the score of 17-12.

Although this year's team was not the most successful ever turned out at A. M. A., it may be rightly called one of the "fightin'est aggregations" ever to represent the Blue and White. And, after all is said and done, it is not whether you win or lose that counts, but the way you "play the game," and our hats are off to these men who have upheld the traditions of A. M. A. by playing a clean, hard, scrappy game and being able to take defeat, as well as victory, with a smile.

To you, Captain McArthur and Fick, we bid a sad farewell. Wherever your footsteps may lead you our best wishes and hope for your success go with you—you have been weighed and not found wanting—you have stamped yourselves as "True Sons of Augusta."

And to you who return to "carry on" for Augusta next year, we wish earnestly that it will be your best and brightest of all years—we wish the best of luck to you all.

Scrubs

They come last, even in this write-up. Their pictures do not adorn the pages of THE RECALL. They received not the spirited cheers of the Corps, and yet they deserve the highest of honors. They fought the losing battle throughout the season. They kept on, although it was not them that received the glory. Always in the dark, but never giving up. These are the scrubs, the hard-fighting, ever-toiling scrubs who finished the season with a smile:

Track Resume

At the close of the 1923 season A. M. A. lost some of her best track men. There is only one letter man from last year's squad back this season. We are not dismayed, however, for under the direction of Captain Harrison and Captain Caldwell, and by dint of hard work, we will see A. M. A. turn out another successful track team.

It seems to be easier to find a runner than a man to perform with the weights, and we have Moss, Smith, and McCue all showing up well with the shot, discus, and javelin. It does not seem amiss to predict that these men will surely win places in the forthcoming meets of the season.

Captain Hogshire was a winner last year in the dashes and the broad jump, and he looks even better now than he did at that time. In Nicholson and Spengler we find two new men who will crowd him for honors in the dashes.

Of last year's squad Blethen, Coiner, Gresham, Alexander, and Sproul all look good and should win places in all their events. The first three are distance men, Alexander runs the quarter, while Sproul high-jumps and runs the hurdles. Carnan and Berry are showing up well on the hurdles, and Bailey as a high jumper. Montgomery is expected to carry off the honors in pole vaulting, and is a good hurdler.

There is a wealth of material to be rounded into shape, and all indications point to the fact that A. M. A. will have a winning combination on the track this spring and one that she may be justly proud of.

Swimming Team

The Swimming Team had a very successful season this year in that it won all of the seven meets that it entered. Again it has the honor of being the champion team of the state, an honor that it has held for the past three years now. Taylor, Sydnor, Castell, Kavanaugh, Downie, Hanlon, and Watts were selected for the All-State Team, Taylor, W., being selected to captain the team. Letters were awarded to Taylor, W., Sydnor, Downie, Castell, Hanlon, Smith, T., and Gresham, T. The high point men were: Taylor, W., 63; Sydnor, 47; and Downie, 29.

In Fancy Diving Taylor and Kavanaugh were the best pair of divers in the state.

The Relay Team was defeated only once.

In the Breast-Stroke, Sydnor and Watts always took first and second places, respectively.

We were not strong in the Back-Stroke, but Gresham, F., collected several points in this event.

In the 220-yard Dash Downie and Gresham, T., deported themselves worthily, Downie, because of his size, always winning the audiences, and he won most of his races.

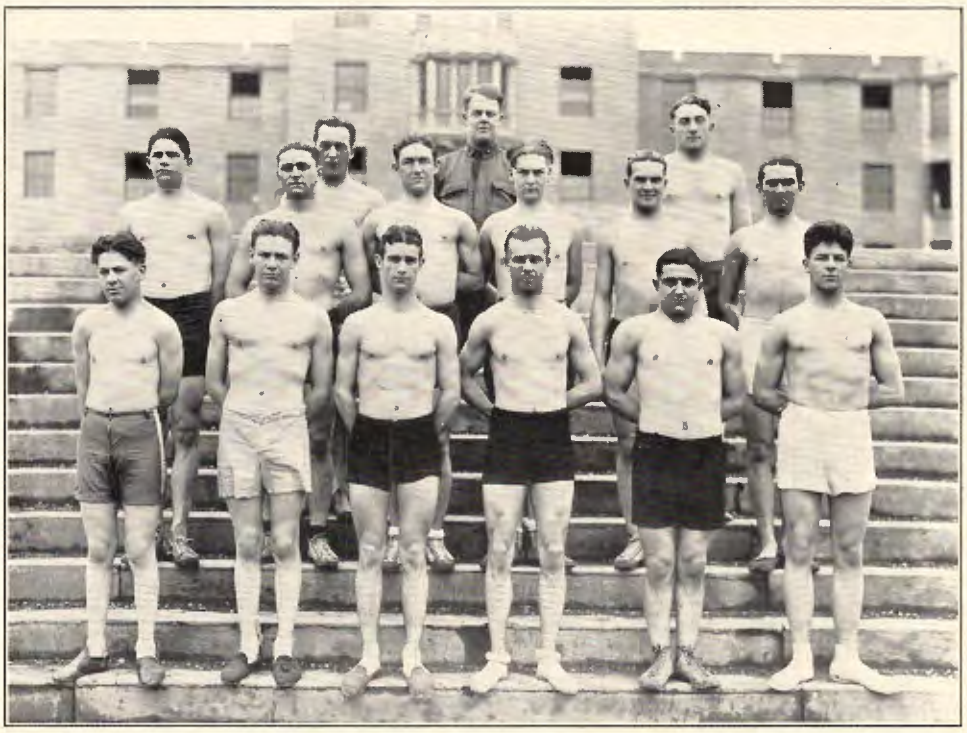

Smith, T., and Robertson swam the fifty-yard Dash in nice form.

In the 100-yard Dash Taylor won all first places. He was well supported by Sydnor and Robertson.

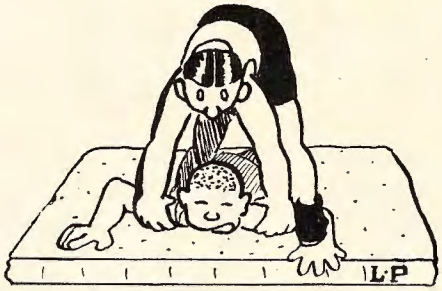

We never failed to take two places in the Plunge for Distance with Castell and Hanlon entered in this event.

A glance at the scores tells the story of the season.

Wrestling Team

Wrestling Team Resume

Augusta is justly proud of her mat-men. Due primarily to the united efforts of Captain Harrison, our popular coach, and the stamina and "stick-to-it-iveness" of the men who answered the call for grapplers, Augusta's wrestlers made a remarkable showing for the year '23-'24."

We were unfortunate in not being able to secure meets in our class. We were not able to secure meets with prep schools, and consequently our opponents were college freshmen teams only. Our showing was remarkable in view of this handicap. Although losing three of our four meets, each was closely contested and the outcome was never assured until until the last match was over.

With the return of only one letter man, A. M. A. is more than pleased with the team of '23-'24. The squad was extremely fortunate in having for its captain Cadet Hogshire, E. We wish to congratulate him on his able leadership.

Further congratulations are extended to the following who were awarded lettters for their sterling work on the mat:

Cadet Hogshire, E. (Captain) 125 pounds
Cadet Pannel 135 pounds
Cadet Kelley 155 pounds

PEEP ATHLETES

To the Staunton Girls

When days are blue
It's always you
Who come to cheer our hearts;
We like your wiles,
We need your smiles
In these forsaken parts.

You're ever gay,
You like to play,
You're mostly sweet and fair;
It often seems
Your mirth redeems
Our souls from black despair.

You're much discussed
And sometimes "cussed,"
Or, maybe, turned away;
But most the time
You're quite sublime—
The girls of A. M. A.

We turn you down
And chase aroun'
For girls we've never met;
But, in the end,
We must give in—
It's you who win the bet!

Social

Social

It is a well known fact that one of the most important phases of a school anywhere is its social life. And this phase was not lacking in excellence at Augusta during the session of 1923-'24.

The officers of the Cotillion Club and the Final Ball deserve unstinted praise for the efficient manner in which their positions were handled. "Better dances than ever," was their by-word, and there was never a failure in carrying it out. Music, decorations, and last, but by no means least, the attending "calic" were far in advance of previous years. Every dance, from the first informal of the year, to the long-to-be-remembered Final Ball, was an overwhelming success.

Officers elected for the Cotillion Club were as follows: President, E. J. Kavanaugh; Vice-President, Russell Bargamin, Jr.; Secretary and Treasurer, W. C. Turley. The committee consisted of: M. B. Williamson, chairman; W. H. McCue, T. D. McNeal, T. E. Hogshire, C. B. Blethen 2nd, J. H. Lewis, J. B. McArthur, M. M. Sproul, L. J. Thompson.

Final Ball officers elected were: M. B. Williamson, President and Leader; E. J. Kavanaugh, Assistant Leader; W. C. Turley, Assistant Leader. The committee: T. E. Hogshire, chairman; Russell Bargamin, Jr., R. B. Alexander, H. C. Bray, L. J. Thompson, T. D. McNeal, W. H. McCue, J. B. McArthur, C. C. Canada, J. H. Lewis, and M. M. Sproul.

Our first dance of the year was held September 29th. Music was furnished by the "Zu-Zu" Orchestra of Staunton. Many old friends from last year were present, and many new faces were noted.

Opening Hops were on the 26th and 27th of October. A new orchestra around these parts, namely, Yerke's "Musical Bell Hops," of New York, furnished the music for the formal, and the "Zu-Zu" for the informal. The "calic" was superfine, and a large number of faculty and "keydets" attended.

Then followed a lull in our social activities between "openings" and "Thanksgivings," punctuated by an excellent informal the second week of November, with the "Zu-Zu" again performing in a creditable manner.

December 7th and 8th! What memories these two dates recall. The Thanksgiving Hops were voted par excellent by those attending. The "All Southern Seven," of Lexington, played both nights.

The first dance after Christmas holidays was an informal on the night of January 12th, with our old friends, the "Zu-Zu's," again doing the honors. 'Nuff said.

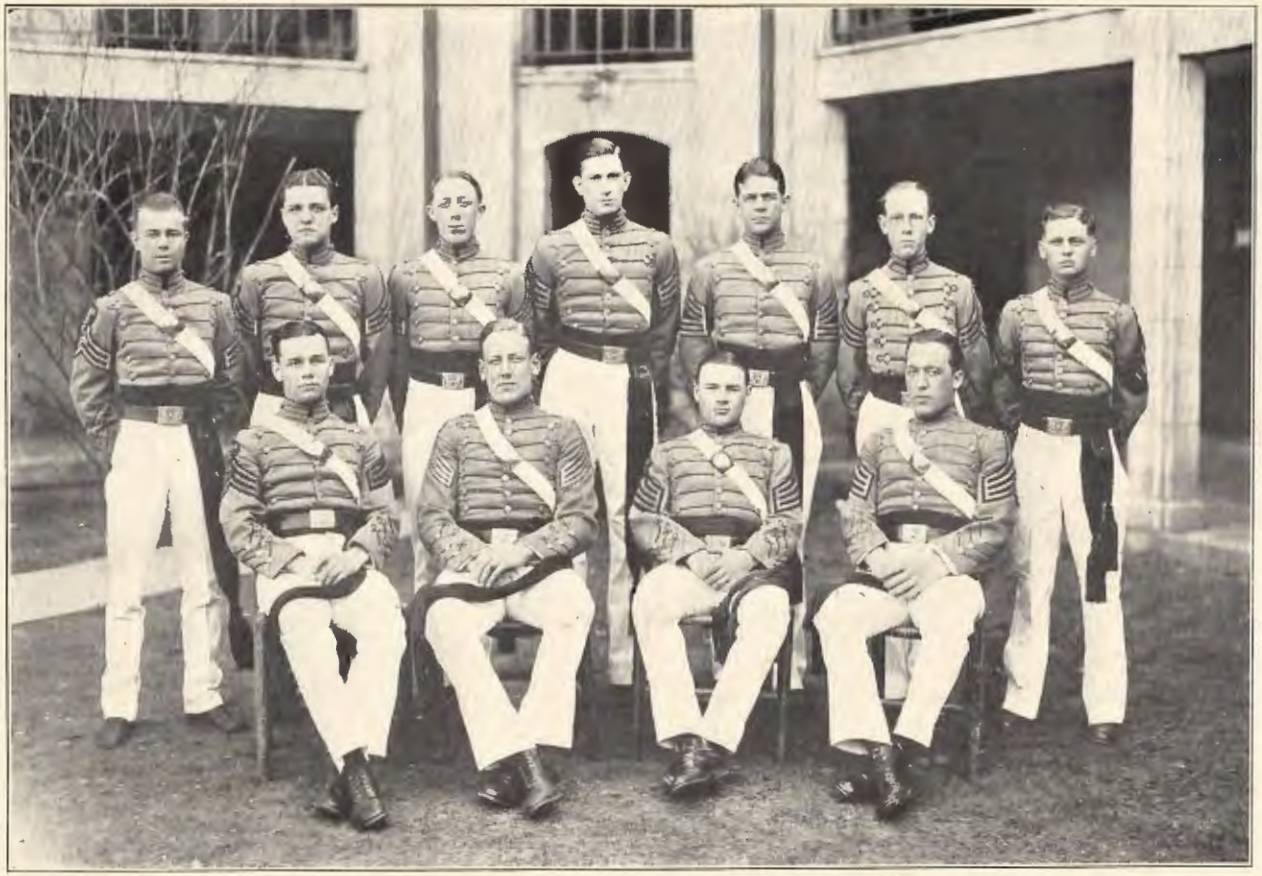

Because of the conflicting dates of neighboring schools and colleges, Mid-winter Hops were late this year, being on the 7th and 8th of March. These dances were truly "the berries," the largest crowd thus far in the year attending. Weidemeyer's orchestra, of Huntington, W. Va., played for the formal, and the brand of music they put out reminded one of their last engagement here, the 1923 Final Ball. The decorations, the music, and the girls attending the hops all combined to make them what they were. Music for the informal was furnished by the "Zu-Zu."

Space need not be taken to tell about the informals during the rest of the session, because they were all above par as informals go.

Page after page could be filled by the writer, and then enough could not be said about the Easter Hops, May 2nd and 3rd. They are, as a rule, the crowning event of the year, outside of the Final Ball, and they were no exception to the rule this year. Music was furnished by Weidemeyer for the formal, and by the Ramblin' Keydets of V. M. I. for the informal. These dances will be long remembered among the "hopoids" as the best of the best.

And last, but never least, the Final Ball. What a world of things that name signifies! It is a time of happiness, and yet of sadness, for it is the last function of the school year. Words fail in the attempt to describe it. To say it was wonderful would seem to cover it, but when one considers the music, the figure, the girls, and the supper, "wonderful" seems futile to express it. This dance brought to a close Augusta's most successful social year.

INTRODUCTION

This section of THE RECALL is not dedicated to anyone, for we have been unable to find anyone who would allow this honor (?) to be placed upon them. However, we are still undaunted and hope that if you can't laugh with us, you will refrain from laughing at us. This introduction is undoubtedly the funniest thing in this section of THE RECALL, and yet it is meant to be serious. The authors are not in the habit of authing introductions which will account for any irregularities which may be discovered.

According to Thompson, the best thing about a girl is your arms.

NEWS OF WALL STREET

The greatest clean-up of the week was made by Jim Shorts when Amalgamated Rat Traps fell off six points on account of the cheese shortage. A veritable bomb was exploded in the market when Consolidated tooth-picks rose thirty-nine cents a share because of the strike of the Woodmen of the World.

SCANDAL

Circle Number Two met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. D. Minor. The meeting was opened by everyone rising and singing that well known hymn, "Throw out the Sauer Kraut." General Permit, the nationally known lecturer, gave a most interesting talk on "Bricks, and How to Avoid Them." The meeting ended in a panic when the hat was passed for money for the dying grass in the arctic regions.

McNeal: "I saw a girl fall down and break her leg."

Hogshire: "You shouldn't use such an expression; you should say limb."

McNeal: "If you had seen it you would have said it was a tree!"

Nervous Passenger in aeroplane 500 feet above the earth: "What are you laughing at, driver?"

Driver: "I'm just laughing at the superintendent. About this time he'll be looking all over the asylum for me."

FACULTY SPECIAL ORDER

Augusta Military Academy, Fort Defiance, Virginia.—Special order number blank. For reports during the past year the following faculty have penalty:

For making himself a continual nuisance to the corps of cadets by having drill too often, and making himself generally obnoxious, Major Sandlin is hereby reduced to ranks and will perform the following penalty:

He will publicly apologize to the corps for the excessive number of drills this year.

He will be posted each night in front of barracks with full pack from 7:30 to 11:30 from now until September 20th.

Captain "Nimrod" Guthrie, for creating excessive disturbances in barracks will perform the following penalty:

Every night he will roll eight trash cans around the second stoop.

The night the corps leaves he will collect every Latin book in barracks and build a bonfire with them in the courtyard.

Major Jacobs, for conducting himself in an impudent and overbearing manner in the presence of cadets, will perform the following penalty:

He will be required to "fin out" between his house and any point this side of the front arch.

As penalty for the strain imposed upon those cadets in his classes he will recite the following formula twenty times a day with his dog as an audience: "Gentlemen, close your books; now, x equals 2y I don't care what the book says, I don't know what is in the book. Now write the proposition."

For making himself entirely too conspicuous on unwarranted occasions, Captain Yarbrough will perform the following penalty:

Ask every store-keeper in Staunton for a yard of skirmish line.

Answer "Yes, sir," or "No, sir," whenever addressed by a cadet.

Learn to play at least four pieces on the harmonica and give a public recital before the corps of cadets.

Report to the O. D.'s office every morning at six o'clock to run errands for the Corporal of the Guard.

Captain Starnes, for extreme cowardice in the presence of the opposite sex, will be required to walk up Main Street in Staunton on Saturday afternoon and introduce himself to every girl he meets.

Captain Stackhouse, for excess cruelty to his phonograph and incidentally to the cadets, will be required to walk between the Fort and the Coffee House twice a day for two weeks singing at the top of his voice the well known hymn, "God Be Merciful Unto Me."

Captain McLaughlin, for assuming an air of importance unbecoming one of his age and station, especially when on O. C., will revert to knee trousers and Buster Brown collar and tie for a period of one month.

Captain Spindle, for innumerable reports of a Shiekist nature, will be severely punished. He is hereby put on honor not to look at himself in a mirror more than twenty times a day for a week, and also to make a diligent application of soap and water upon the shadow on his upper lip.

The gross misconduct of the remainder of the faculty has not been overlooked. Their reports are of such a heinous nature that the only possible penalty would be instant dismissal. Upon their humble promise of better conduct in the future their penalty will be confined to being put on probation, and ten licks with the well known baseball bat will be administered to each by every cadet.

LITERARY SOCIETY

MINUTES OF THE LAST MEETING

On April Fool's Day the fifty-first meeting of the Siseronian Literary Monotony was celebrated. The subject for debate was, "Resolved, that Santa Claus should dispense with reindeer and buy a Ford." The debate was thoroughly mishandled by the debaters. The readings, as a whole, were very good, some of these deserving especial praise were:

"That Old Bicycle of Mine"—By Mr. Blethen

"The History of Muscle Colds"—By Mr. Amos

The Frame Without a Picture"—By Mr. Wehrle

Upon the close of the debate a short talk was given by the Official Critic, on "The Valley Pike." After much wrangling by the judges they subsided in favor of the negative and the meeting adjourned.

TRASH CAN MAKES BIG SCOOP

The news reached us today through the lightning-like service of the Congested Press that Columbus has discovered America. It is because of this speedy and reliable service to the public that THE TRASH CAN has become the leading newspaper of every town, village, city, and hamlet in the United States.

THE TRASH CAN is always first. First to get the news, first to be sued for libel, and first to be thrown away. It contains all those articles that people like to read, but don't like to admit that they like to read. In its columns may be found the choicest of scandals, each gruesome detail of the most harrowing murders, and the most odorous of pungent jokes. The proof of the success of this policy may be found by observing the low subscription rate of one mark or two rubles per year for this paper.

We do not doubt that you will find yourself insulted in these pages. In fact, it is intended that you should, but we hope that you will take a charitable view of the situation and realize the pleasure it gives others to have you insulted. If this plea does not move you we can only hope that the identity of the editors remains a secret until after June the third.

THE EASTER FLOP

Memorial Hall was jammed to the rafters when the long-awaited Hop (skip and jump) commenced. An excellent brand of discord was rendered by The Cuspidors. The Hall was decorated with blue-tinted bath rugs laid on bamboo skins of finger-nail black Overhead hung the beautiful portrait of Easter Sunday (Billy's sister) draped with imitation huckleberries. The window design was conceived by the well-known interior and exterior decorator, Bon Ami. Everybody was on their toes when the music started, and by the time it ended they had been on everybody else's. The Cuspidors played all the latest hits, the ones bringing the most applause were: "Those Two-Cent Stamp Glues" and "Just a Little Love Tangled." The dance was a great success, according to Charlie Roller, and we sincerely thank all those who were mixed up in it.

Captain Spindle: "Put that hat on straight."

What we would like to say: "Aw, go jump in the lake, you big ham. You look like a cow in distress. For two cents I'd push your face to the back of your head."

What we did say: "Yes, sir, I forgot about it, sir; I'll straighten it right away, sir."

Mann, C.: "My father is a doctor, so I can be sick for nothing."

Gresham, T.: "My father's a parson, so I can be good for nothing."

Capt. Clarkson: "I sure made a hit at that leap year dance last night.

Capt. Spindle: "How's that?"

Capt. Clarkson: "One girl danced with me ten straight times."

SOCIAL SECTION

Major Sandlin has recently returned from an extended visit to the Capital City, where he was the guest of General Butler. During his visit there he witnessed the miniature battle between the Army and the Marines. The Marines quickly humbled their opponents with a flank movement and completed the rout with a display of calesthenics, which scared the Army to death. Major Sandlin enjoyed his visit very much and wishes to state that the public does not give the Marines credit due them for winning the war.

An informal laundry call was held last Monday morning at nine-thirty a. m. Admission to laundry room was by laundry bags, and the regulation blue and white shoe-strings were worn. As the men passed through the basement gaily bedecked with laundry bags the choir sang that touching little ditty entitled, "Bring Back My Buttons to Me." The affair was one of the most fashionable of the season.

—o—

Major Roller: "It looks like a storm, you had better stay and have dinner with us in the mess hall."

Fair Visitor: "Oh, thanks, but I don't think it's bad enough for that."

Y. M. C. A.

The most interesting meeting held this year was held on Sunday night, Octvember 32nd. The choir, composed of Mr. Bray, Watts, Flournoy, and Taylor, W., opened the meeting with a pathetic ditty entitled, "I Want To Be, Again O. D." Mr. Dudley presided and gave a short talk on the improper magazines of today. He brought out many interesting points, one of which will long roam in our dome. Quoting from The Fly Swatter, the National Filthy Magazine Killer, he said: "The average cost of these magazines is twenty cents. The average cadet reads ten per month, which means an annual expenditure of $800 in the school. This amount would be amply sufficient to send Pat (A. M. A.'s dog) to the dog-killers at Washington, D. C., by the fastest express. Think of the good that could be done with so much money wasted on filthy magazines." After this glowing talk the meeting adjourned with the singing of Yes! (We fooled you, didn't we?)

A Word to the Wise

Before I carves my John Henry on my locker door and stumbles out the front door of this here asylum for the last time, I wanna slip you Bennies as hasn't yet got here, a handful of inside info about this here Military Slapsticks argument what is learned us here.

Seeing as how I has flitted away three years absorbing the same stuff what most dumb-bells accumulates during one spasm of the calendar, I feels that I deserves the Aluminium B. V. D.'s when it comes to having the low-down on this here Military Chopsticks.

They is several things what is handy to know before you learns anything. If you lives in a hamlet where they is plenty of hills, try gettin' up at five o'clock every morning and ankle up and down the steepest one until eight o'clock. If they ain't no hills in your burg, why, all you gotta do is the same thing. Just put on your biggest hob-nail clod-hoppers and prance up and down stairs for a coupla hours. If this don't feel like a practice march why there ain't nothing what does. It's also good practice for walkin' track, of which you is likely to have to do considerable of. If these and some other instructions what I ain't given, is followed out, the chances is that after a coupla years you might snatch off a corporalship.

Enyway, this Military Slapstick stuff is darn handy stuff to know. Suppose they was a war and a enemy was tryin' to abuse you with a knife, razor, or other warlike artillery. All you gotta do is look him in the eye while you pulls out your tactics book and looks up what to do under them conditions. If it don't say, just keep lookin' him in the eye while you hollers for the corporal of the guard, for it is a case what ain't covered by no instructions. If the enemy is a obliging one he will wait for the corporal of the guard, but if he ain't, why you is jest naturally outta luck.

This here Tactics Book is a wonderful invention. Some of the dope what is peddled in it would make Napoleon turn over in his grave with envy. Why, inside them covers it tells just what you gotta do to win a war; the number of dumb-bells what has gotta tote muskets; how big a stack of fodder you gotta have to feed their faces; and most everything else what comes in handy to know if you aims to stage a war. Of course, it don't tell nothing about where all this junk is coming from, what you gotta have, but just the same it tells how to win your war.

Now let's ease our optics onto the other side of the argument. Supposin' as how there weren't no Tactics books. Then we couldn't have no wars, 'cause nobody wouldn't know nothing about what to do, so they couldn't do it.

Before I adds the Finis to this epistle, lemme show you one of the most beneficial benefits what this stuff has got. Supposing you h'ain't decided what kinda job you will grab onto when this dump gives you the air. They ain't no doubt but what you has heaved enough coal to rate being a A-1 coal heaver; made twice enough foot-prints around the track to be a first class tramp, and qualified for a boot-black. If you is still in doubt and don't feel as how you has got the eddication for either of these jobs, don't get discouraged, for you has still got the army left to go into.

Class Will

We, the Graduating Class of 1924 of Augusta Military Academy, County of Augusta, State of Virginia, being of doubtful mentality and poor memory, do hereby make, broadcast, and shout from all the housetops, that this is our LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT.

FIRST. We direct all just debts and funeral expenses to be paid as soon as conveniently may be, and by anyone who can be found willing to do so.

SECOND. We do hereby make, constitute, and appoint Major Roller to be Sole Executor of this, our LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT, under a bond of one hundred track.

THIRD. We do give, devise, and bequeath unto all those cadets who continue on in our footsteps:

The barracks, whose multitude of comforts rivals the most luxuriant of winter resorts.

The academic building where it was our custom to be subjected to the many agonies of Math, English, History, and language.

The mess hall, whose lavish display of delicious foods will forever make our mouths water at the thought.

With the utmost of pleasure do we bequeath to you the valley pike, over which our tired, worn feet have so often plod their weary way.

The making of packs, and the spring mornings of tent-pitching we do grudgingly will to you. Also, we greatly regret that no more will we be allowed to partake of the splendid exercise provided by an invigorating field problem.

Without a trace of regret, and with the deepest sympathy for you, do we will to you that most terrible of all weeks, examination week.

We do hereby renounce, and declare null and void, all special orders pertaining to any of our members; all such discomforting formations as drill and reveille; in fact, we renounce for a period of two weeks, everything that might detract from the perfect enjoyment of being an alumnus.

Our next bequest to you is one of rare merit. With a sad heart do we separate ourselves forever from the Temple of All Knowledge, the organization which weekly settles the most complex economic, social, and political problems of nations, and the destinies of the whole world. We trust that the Ciceronian Literary Society will prosper in your hands.

To those mental giants who tread in our footsteps we leave the Fresh Air, and to those of smaller intellect or less ambition we leave the Association of Amalgamated Iron-Workers.

But most pleasant of all we do leave to you that period of the school year to which every cadet, old and new, looks forward to with an eager anticipation which may never be excelled by any event in years to come; the time when old acquaintances are renewed, when a spirit of wholesome joy and gladness pervades the school. FINALS, the happiest week of all the year, we do will to you.

FOURTH. As individuals, we of the Class of 1924 hereby make the following bequests:

Cooper leaves to Hawkins the sole privilege of making one hundred on examinations.

Booker leaves his trifling room-mate, Watts, T., to anyone who will have him.

Bargamin leaves his career at A. M. A. as a model to be followed by Bascom Slemp, V.

Canada leaves the secret of "How I Make My Hair Stay Combed" to Derby.

Bray leaves a fund of fifteen cents to anyone who can smoke his pipe and live.

Wisotzkey leaves the privilege of putting postscripts on letters to the next mail-master.

Thompson leaves Stuart Hall open to all comers.

McNeal leaves his "Wise Cracks" to Boswell.

McCue leaves the habit of swearing off smoking to Flournoy.

Turley leaves the S. T. mail without any letters.

Blethen leaves his "Shiekish Ways" to anyone who can be induced to take them.

Wilson leaves the title of "The Infant Prodigy" without an owner.

Rice leaves the privilege of being "hard-boiled" to Spike Wilkes.

Massey leaves the honor of upholding West Virginia in capable hands.

Brown leaves his "Poetic Instinct" to Rooster Pannell.

Willilamson tried, but was unable to leave behind him the title of "Tony."

Mann, C. C., leaves his Million-Dollar Smile to Pewee Freeman.

Haynie leaves a dozen jars of Staycomb to Terry.

Levy leaves four free passes to the synagogue to Hofheimer.

Johnston leaves his French correspondence to Graves.

Jerman leaves his outgrown uniform as a donation to Joe Moss.

Rap leaves with pleasure.

O'Donnell leaves Shepherd without anyone to listen to his poems.

Howe leaves the task of writing next year's class will to anyone having little ambition and much time.

Gresham leaves the supremacy of the fourth stoop tower to Wilkins.

Fick leaves the second stoop trash cans with regret.

Eppes leaves the arch lights to burn themselves out.

McKim leaves his playful ways to Uffinger.

In witness whereof I, Boots Walker, the above named, have annexed my John Hancock in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty-Four.

Charlottesville Trip

V. M. I. versus Virginia. "Column of squads. First platoon, first company, right by squads," cried the first captain, and the Battalion headed for the station, beginning a long, but happy day of marching. Arriving in Staunton, the Corps was marched from the B. and O. depot up New Street, turning to the left up Main and down to the C. and O. station, where we entrained for Charlottesville.

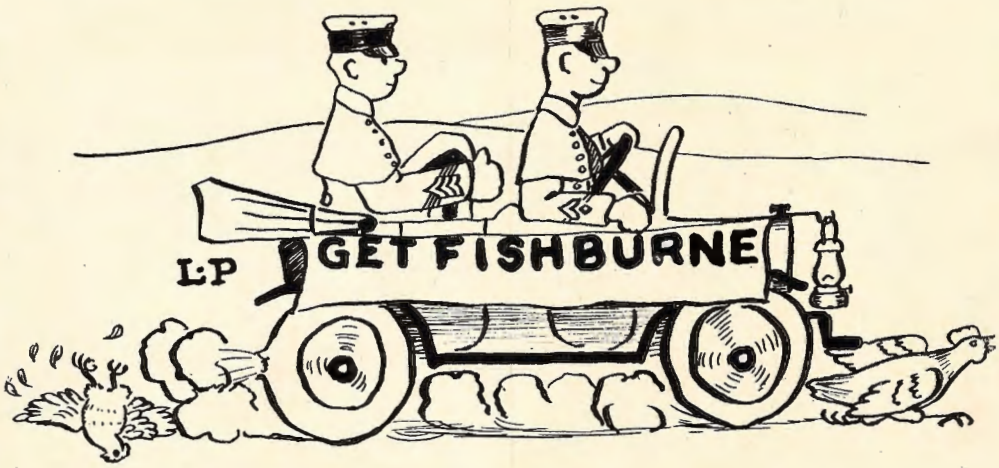

The annual V. M. I.-Virginia game was played in Charlottesville on October 20th. Being one of the big games of the season in which we are all interested and wish to attend, the Principals had approved permits for the entire Corps to make the trip.

The A. M. A. Special was stopped at the South Gate of Lambeth Field. Detraining, the Battalion was formed just inside the gate and marched on the field for the game with Woodberry.

Following this we had several hours in which to look around the University town, before the big game of the day.

At two p. m. the Cadets took their seats in the stand and witnessed the V. M. I. Corps parade on the field, shortly followed by the appearance of the Flying Squadron and the Cavaliers. The game ended with V. M. I. victorious.

The Corps entrained for Staunton at six-thirty, a tired but entirely contented crowd, each one declaring that the trip had been a success.

Fishburne Trip

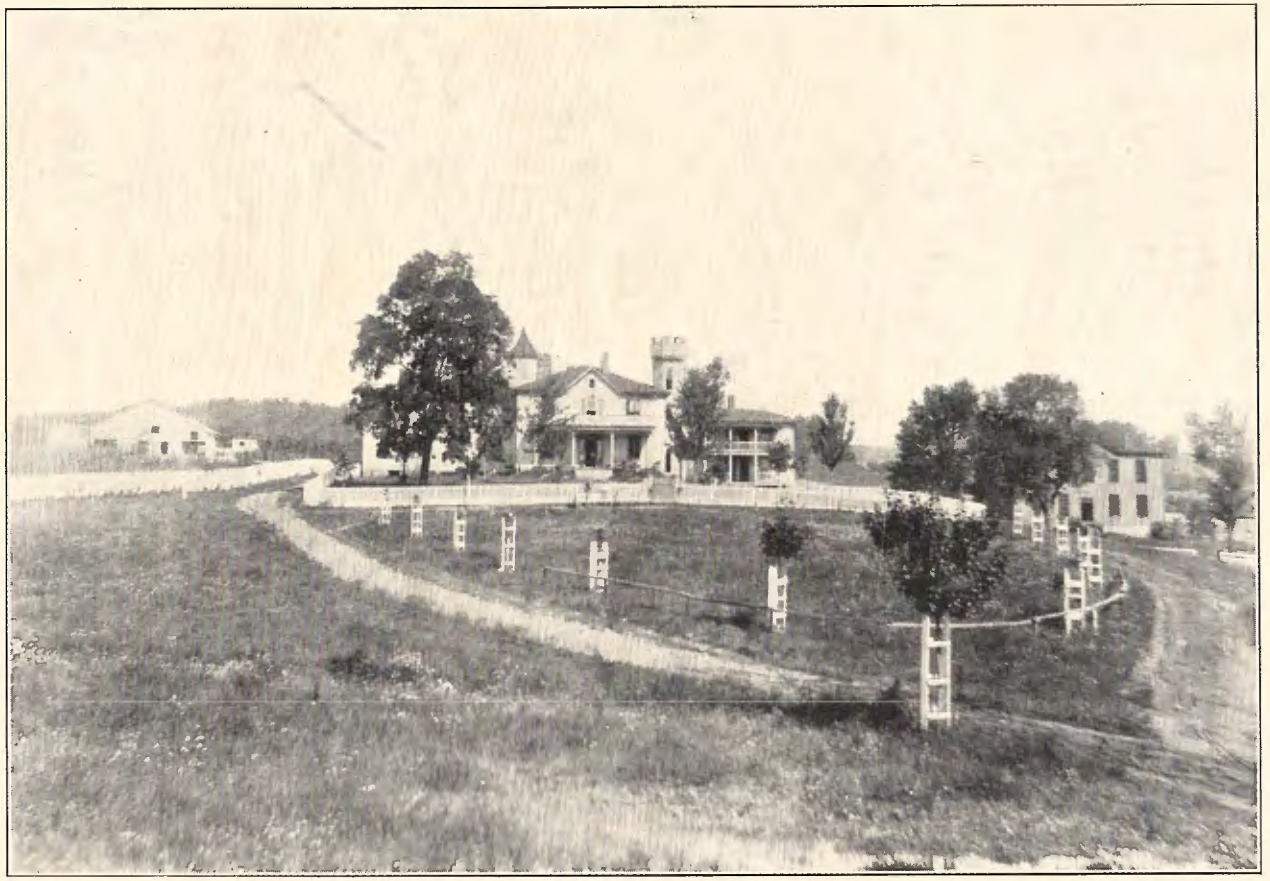

On to Waynesboro! Back with the bacon! The big game of the season and our spirits were high. Spirit. Spirit meetings and pep rallys. We were behind the team to the last man, with a determination to win.

The annual football game with Fishburne Military School was played in Waynesboro on November 19th. Permits had been approved for the entire Corps. Leaving by automobile, the Cadets drove to Staunton, where most of them spent the morning, proceeding to Waynesboro later.

At two o'clock the Battalion was formed on Wayne Avenue. Several men were unaccounted for, and we later learned that they had been investigating the condition of the Basic jail.

Turning off Wayne Avenue the Battalion paraded down the enemy's field and were swung into line, facing the Fishburne Corps. Here a yell was given for F. M. S. The Cadets then took their places on the opposite sidelines, and from that moment, until the end of the game, kept up a continuous yell.

The game closed with a victory for the Blue and White, and it was a high-spirited Corps that returned to Barracks (and study hour) that night.

WHERE GO TO COLLEGE?

THERE ARE THREE MAJOR CONSIDERATIONS THAT DETERMINE THE GREATNESS, OR THE POTENTIAL GREATNESS OF AN EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTION:

1. The Plant, including grounds, library, classrooms, laboratories, and apparatus.
2. The Faculty.
3. The Student Body and its democratic standards.

In addition to the thirty buildings already on the campus, the State of North Carolina is this year putting $1,000,000.00 into new buildings and equipment. The library of 120,000 volumes is spending $32,500.00 annually for books and periodicals. Twelve thousand volumes were received in 1922-23, and 1,181 magazines and learned journals were received on subscription and by gift.

The Faculty numbers 150 of the country's best scholars.

Speaking of the student body of the University, Mr. Sherwood Eddy, of Yale University, who has spent the major portion of his life studying on four continents, said that with one exception it was the most seriously thoughtful and democratic group of students he had ever known.
